The Good Wife

This character presentation is a combination of Ingénue and Lover. The Ingénue is shown to be innocent, wholesome, having high moral standards and/or naive. The Lover displayed as a wife or girlfriend.

Demonstration of this type of role in "The Power of a Praying Woman" as an abused wife (Gloria) who finds her own strength; and in "The Ancient Book of Krawlz" as best friend turned love interest (Peppa Crumswell) of the lead character Bartholomew.

Ms. Know it All Worker Bee

The character presentation shows the regular working person with a little sass when necessary.

Demonstration of this type of role in "The Beguiled" as Stephanie -- an ambition biotech student who knows her stuff and doesn't mind letting know as well.

The Caregiver

This presentation encompasses the human aspect of those we look to when we need help or support -- such as a sister, best friend, or even a medical professional.

Demonstration of this type of role in "No More Games" as Kim; the sister who comes to the rescue when her sibling needs someone to take care of her child during a time of distress and turmoil.
